

Pappo's Blues Vol.1 (1971)

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 06 June 2010 21:17 - Last Updated Tuesday, 11 June 2013 19:49

Pappo's Blues Vol.1 (1971)

1. Algo Ha Cambiado
2. Viejo
3. Hansen
4. Gris y Amarillo
5. Adios Willy
6. Hombre Suburbano
7. Especies
8. Adonde Esta la Libertad

Musicians: Pappo - Guitar, Piano, Vocals David Lebón - Bass Black Amaya – Drums

“Pappo’s Blues” was a Rock/Blues band from Argentina. Led by Pappo (Norberto “Pappo” Napolitano), it suffered a constant change of musicians throughout its life.

In 1971 Pappo’s Blues recorded its first album, called simply “Pappo’s Blues”. The second one, “Pappo’s Blues Volumen 2” was recorded in 1972. By the time in which they recorded the third album (Pappo’s Blues Volumen 3), there had been two changes in the group: David Lebón (bass) left, his place taken by C.A. Machi Ruffino, and Black Amaya was replaced by Pomo. The recording of Pappo’s Blues Volumen 4 was marked by the return of David Lebón and Black Amaya and the incorporation of Alejandro Medina. On the same year the discographic company edited “Triángulo” and in 1975 “Pappo’s Blues Volumen 6” with songs that had already been recorded, in which Pappo played with Eduardo Barbagnatti and Eduardo Beaudoux. In 1978 Pappo, this time with Alejandro Medina playing bass and Darío Fernandez with the drums, recorded Pappo’s Blues Volumen 7. On November 14th 1980 the band officially dissolved, but “Pappo’s band” kept playing occasionally. The band recorded Hombre Suburbano in 1994; Caso Cerrado in 1995 and Auto Rojo in 1998. ---last.fm

Pappo's Blues Vol.1 (1971)

Written by bluesever

Sunday, 06 June 2010 21:17 - Last Updated Tuesday, 11 June 2013 19:49

download: uploaded anonfiles mega 4shared mixturecloud yandex mediafire ziddu

back