

Jimmy Witherspoon - Evenin' Blues (1963)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 30 March 2010 20:20 - Last Updated Wednesday, 03 March 2021 22:43

Jimmy Witherspoon - Evenin' Blues (1963)

1. Money's Getting Cheaper [2:47]
2. Grab Me a Freight [3:43]
3. Don't Let Go [2:47]
4. I've Been Treated Wrong [3:25]
5. Evenin' [2:40]
6. Cane River [2:30]
7. How Long Blues [2:46]
8. Good Rockin' Tonight [2:40]
9. Kansas City [3:03]
10. Drinking Beer [2:13]

Jimmy Witherspoon - vocals, T-Bone Walker - electric guitar, Clifford Scott – flute, sax, Bert Kendrix – organ, piano, Clarence Jones - bass, Wayne Robertson - drums.

A good, relaxed (but not laid-back) session, and one of his bluesier ones, with organ, Clifford Scott (who played on Bill Doggett's "Honky Tonk") on sax, and T-Bone Walker on guitar. Nothing too adventurous about the song selection, including well-traveled items like "Good Rockin' Tonight" and "Kansas City," but Witherspoon sings them with ingratiating soul, reaching his peaks on his cover of "Don't Let Go" (perhaps better than the hit version by Roy Hamilton) and the late-night ambience of the title track. --- Richie Unterberger, allmusic.com download (mp3 @192 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto solidfiles global-files

Jimmy Witherspoon - Evenin' Blues (1963)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 30 March 2010 20:20 - Last Updated Wednesday, 03 March 2021 22:43

back