

Karen Lawrence – Rip And Tear (1986)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 20 February 2018 15:46 - Last Updated Saturday, 20 March 2021 09:18

Karen Lawrence – Rip And Tear (1986)

1 Shoot For The Heart 4:07 2 Never Enough 4:16 3 What A Lovely Way To Go 5:53 4 Get It Up Get It Right 3:25 5 Rip And Tear 0:25 6 Is This Love 4:31 7 Wild Heart 5:45 8 Kiss From A Distance 3:40 9 Out Of The Blue 4:30 Acoustic Guitar – Steve Schiff (tracks: 8) Bass – Arthur Barrow (tracks: 8), Rick Wilson Drums – Gordon Gale Guitar, Synthesizer, Backing Vocals – Fred Hostetler Keyboards – Eddie Leonetti Synthesizer – Arthur Barrow Vocals, Synthesizer, Percussion – Karen Lawrence

For Karen Lawrence, attaching just her name to a record was a first. Earlier in the 80's, she had released an album with backing band The Pinz credited to the release. This time, it was all on her. For many frontwomen, this would show with a cagey and reserved record. Not a bit of it! Lawrence's confident performance shines through this album, she's not afraid to express her natural abilities throughout, happy to give it all. This was unfortunately a brief foray into the spotlight, denying us the opportunity to see what could have been. But this serves as a brief glimpse into what could have been. ---revolverrecords.com download (mp3 @192 kbs):

yandex mediafire uloz.to solidfiles global-files

back

Karen Lawrence – Rip And Tear (1986)

Written by bluesever

Tuesday, 20 February 2018 15:46 - Last Updated Saturday, 20 March 2021 09:18
