1. I've got to find somebody 2'48 (A.Jack)
2. Shame on you 2'30 (A.Jack, C.Olmos)
3. What you're gonna say 3'10 (A.Jack) play
4. Baby don't you come back home 3'30 (A.Jack)
5. The way to the hells 4'58 (A.Jack, C.Olmos)
6. What's wrong 6'15 (J.Falissard, R.Fontaine, A.Jack, C.Olmos)
7. Some people 2'05 (J.Falissard, R.Fontaine, A.Jack, C.Olmos)
8. Middle earth 9'36 (A.Jack, P.Wood)

Richard Fontaine - bass,percussion,flute astral,vocals
Alan Jack - piano,orgue,harmonica,vocals
Jean Falissard - batterie,percussion,vocals
Claude Olmos - guitare,percussion,vocals.

This band (Bass, piano, drums & guitar) performed on this record from 1969 an authentic and powerful blues rock sung in English. Guitarist Claude OLMOS revealed a really refined, aggressive but flowing, dazzling and powerful way of playing on "Middle Earth", long suite where the clear and waving vocals of Alan JACK blend with his piano parts and the truly beautiful, moving and complex soli. As good as FLEETWOOD MAC in their best period.
