Over twenty-five years of Glenn Kaiser's pioneering contemporary Christian music ministry have culminated in the Glenn Kaiser Band, a scorching power trio that serves up hard-driving blues rock with no-nonsense lyrics that appeal to both longtime Resurrection Band fans as well as fans of Kaiser's ground breaking solo blues albums. 2000's "Winter Sun," the freshman project from Kaiser, bassist Roy Montroy, and drummer Ed Bialach, received some of the most enthusiastic reviews ever given a Kaiser-related project. "Carolina Moon," like "Winter Sun," is rooted in the blues/rock tradition yet features more of bassist Montroy's powerful rock-based tunes. This brings even more edge and flash to GKB's sound. Fans of Resurrection Band will note that influence, as Kaiser and Montroy were principal songwriters for REZ. ---

Blistering blues pulsing through the heart of hard rock. The Glenn Kaiser Band delivers with more zippity zest than was hinted at in their former album Winter Sun, even on the crowd-pleasers like their cover of "Nobody's Fault But Mine." Not just for fans of Kaiser's solo Blues work, Carolina Moon will please Resurrection Band fans looking for beefy chops, high-powered percussion and passionate, orotund vocals. Among the most consistent and accomplished albums of Kaiser's recording career, Carolina Moon is obligatory listening for the School of Heavenly Hard Knocks. --- Steven S.
