

Sam Collins - Complete Recorded Works 1927-1931 (1996)

Written by bluesever

Monday, 26 August 2013 16:23 -

Sam Collins - Complete Recorded Works 1927-1931 (1996)

01. The Jail House Blues 02. Devil In The Lion's Den 03. Yellow Dog Blues 04. Loving Lady Blues 05. Riverside Blues 06. Dark Cloudy Blues 07. Hesitation Blues 08. Pork Chop Blues 09. Midnight Special Blues 10. I Want To Be Like Jesus In My Heart 11. Lead Me All the Way 12. It Won't Be Long 13. Do That Thing 14. The Worried Man Blues 15. The Moanin' Blues 16. Lonesome Road Blues 17. New Salty Dog 18. Slow Mama Slow 19. Signifying Blues 20. I'm Still Sitting On Top Of The World 21. Graveyard Digger's Blues 22. My Road Is Rough And Rocky (How Long, How Long?) Performer: Sam Collins – guitar, vocals John D. Fox - vocals

One of the earliest generation of blues performers, Collins developed his style in South Mississippi (as opposed to the Delta). His recording debut single ("The Jail House Blues," 1927) predated those of legendary Mississippians such as Charley Patton and Tommy Johnson and was advertised as "Crying Sam Collins and his Git-Fiddle." Collins did not become a major name in blues -- in fact his later records appeared under several different pseudonyms, most notably the name Jim Foster -- but his rural bottleneck guitar pieces were among the first to be compiled on LP when the country-blues reissue era was just beginning. Sam Charters wrote in The Bluesmen: "Although Collins was not one of the stylistic innovators within the Mississippi blues idiom, he was enough part of it that, in blues like 'Signifying Blues' and 'Slow Mama Slow,' he had some of the intensity of the Mississippi music at its most creative level."

Every track that Sam Collins recorded at the end of the '20s and early in the '30s is included on Document's Complete Recorded Works (1927-1931). Although the comprehensiveness of the set is a little intimidating for casual listeners -- they should stick with the better-sequenced Jailhouse Blues -- historians will find the collection invaluable. ---Thom Owens, Rovi download: uploaded anonfiles mega 4shared mixturecloud yandex mediafire ziddu

Sam Collins - Complete Recorded Works 1927-1931 (1996)

Written by bluesever

Monday, 26 August 2013 16:23 -

back