

Little Brother Montgomery - Bajez Copper Station (1993)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 05 June 2019 13:44 - Last Updated Monday, 05 April 2021 20:31

Little Brother Montgomery - Bajez Copper Station (1993)

1 Pinetop 's Boogie 5:18 2 Cow Cow Blues 4:16 3 Doctor, Write Me A Prescription For The Blues 4:33 4 Farrish Street Jive 2:48 5 Vicksbury Blues 5:13 6 Up The Country 3:49 7 Big Fat Boogie 3:47 8 Conny Vaughn Tremblin Blues 06:28 9 No Special Ride Blues 04:36 10 Make Me Down A Pallet On The Floor 04:38 11 Keep On Drinkin 04:02 Piano, Vocals – Little Brother Montgomery Recorded live October 7th, 1972, at the Bajez Club in Amsterdam.

A notable influence on the likes of Sunnyland Slim and Otis Spann, pianist Little Brother Montgomery's lengthy career spanned both the earliest years of blues history and the electrified Chicago scene of the 1950s. By age 11, Montgomery had given up on attending school to instead play in Louisiana juke joints. He came to Chicago as early as 1926 and made his first 78s in 1930 for Paramount, including two enduring signature items, "Vicksburg Blues" and "No Special Rider," recorded in Grafton, WI. Bluebird recorded Montgomery more prolifically in 1935-1936 in New Orleans.

In 1942, Little Brother Montgomery settled down to a life of steady club gigs in Chicago, his repertoire alternating between blues and traditional jazz (he played Carnegie Hall with Kid Ory's Dixieland band in 1949). Otis Rush benefited from his sensitive accompaniment on several of his 1957-1958 Cobra dates, while Buddy Guy recruited him for similar duties when he nailed Montgomery's "First Time I Met the Blues" in a supercharged revival for Chess in 1960. That same year, Montgomery cut a fine album for Bluesville with guitarist Lafayette "Thing" Thomas that remains one of his most satisfying sets.

With his second wife, Janet Floberg, Montgomery formed his own little record company, FM, in 1969. The first 45 on the logo, fittingly enough, was a reprise of "Vicksburg Blues," with a vocal by Chicago chanteuse Jeanne Carroll (her daughter Karen followed in her footsteps around the

Little Brother Montgomery - Bajez Copper Station (1993)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 05 June 2019 13:44 - Last Updated Monday, 05 April 2021 20:31

Windy City). ---Bill Dahl, allmusic.com

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto solidfiles global.files

back