Sergey Khachaturyan – violin
Sinfonia Varsovia
Emmanuel Krivine - conductor

Sergey Khachaturyan was born in Yerevan, the Armenian capital, in 1985. He comes from a family of musicians. From childhood onwards, he benefited from broad cultural horizons that favoured the musical career of which he dreamt. He began the violin at the age of five. The following year, he began his studies at the Sayat Nova Conservatory in Yerevan, continuing them in Germany when his family settled there. The exceptional qualities of this young virtuoso were revealed at a concert with the Orchestra of the Hessen State Theatre, Wiesbaden; he was then nine years old. From then on, foreign trips and prizes followed at regular intervals, with many concerts, all over Europe - Germany, Switzerland, Finland, Portugal, Spain, Italy, France - as well as in the USA, South America, Russia and Armenia.
