

Joan Sutherland – Command Performance (1963)

Written by bluesever

Monday, 20 June 2011 11:59 - Last Updated Thursday, 16 January 2014 14:37

Joan Sutherland – Command Performance (1963)

LP1 01. Weber - Ocean! Thou mighty monster (Oberon) 02. Massenet - Pleurez mes yeux (Le Cid) 03. Meyerbeer - Shadow Song (Dinorah) 04. Leoncavallo - Recit and Ballatella (I Pagliacci) 05. Verdi - Recit and Aria 'Tu del mio Carlo' (I Masnadieri) 06. Verdi - Aria 'Tu puniscimi o signora' (Luisa Miller) play 07. Rossini - Recit and Aria 'Vorrei Spiegarvi' (La Cambiale di Matrimonio) 08. Bellini - Aria 'Deh! Se un urna' (Beatrice di Tenda)

LP2

01. Benedict - The gipsy and the bird 02. Arditi - Parla! 03. Ricci - Io non sono piu l'Annetta (Crispino e la Comare) 04. Tosti - Ideale 05. Arditi - Il Bacio 06. Tosti - La Serenata 07. Leoncavallo - Mattinata 08. Bishop - Lo here the gentle lark 09. Flotow - The last rose of summer (Martha)

play

10. Wallace - Scenes that are brightest (Maritane) 11. Balfe - I dreamt I dwelt (Bohemian Girl) 12. Bishop - Home sweet home

Joan Sutherland - soprano London Symphony Richard Bonyngge - conductor

This 1991 CD extracts 50 minutes from the 1962 double LP album Command Performance. Also included is a 12-minute excerpt from Sutherland's 1969 studio recording of Meyerbeer's Les Huguenots. All of this album shows Dame Joan singing excellently. The only snag is that most of this repertoire doesn't really show off her strengths. The excerpts from Oberon, Le Cid, I Pagliacci, I masnadieri, and Luisa Miller, while engaging, give only glimmers of the magic Sutherland could bring to music. The Shadow Song from Meyerbeer's Dinorah is rather nice though. The best arias are "Come tacer... Vorri spiegarvi il giubilo" from Rossini's La cambiale di matrimonio and "Eccomi pronta... Deh, se un'urna," the finale of Bellini's Beatrice di Tenda. The latter was excellent enough to be included on Decca's 2001 2CD tribute to Sutherland's work: La Stupenda ~ The Supreme Voice of Joan Sutherland. The concluding scene from Les Huguenots is pleasant, particularly the lovely quartet portion. Overall, I would say that all but Sutherland's most dedicated admirers can safely pass this album by. The best track, the Beatrice excerpt available on "La Stupenda," should be enough to satisfy the general collector. ---Aronne

Joan Sutherland – Command Performance (1963)

Written by bluesever

Monday, 20 June 2011 11:59 - Last Updated Thursday, 16 January 2014 14:37

download: uploaded anonfiles yandex 4shared solidfiles mediafire mega filecloudio
nornar

back