The oratorio In patris of 1910, composed after the death of Perosi's father, is perhaps his most impressive and instantly accessible and attractive vocal-orchestral work of all. There is little of the lugubriousness and crushing religious piety which can be an acquired taste in this 36-minute work. The coupling dates from 1897, in memory of a 14-year-old boy singer who was Perosi's favorite pupil; Puccini loved it and admitted cribbing a few notes from the Rex tremendae maiestatis when working on Tosca! --- recordsinternational.com
