

Paganini - Omaggio a Paganini (2000)

Written by bluesever

Thursday, 27 October 2011 08:39 - Last Updated Friday, 07 March 2014 14:07

Paganini - Omaggio a Paganini (2000)

1. Variazioni sul Mose - Y. Menuhin; 0:07:38.22 2. Capriccio N.9 - Y. Menuhin; 0:02:59.04
3. Capriccio N.23 - Y. Menuhin; 0:04:20.96 4. Moto perpetuo - J. Heifetz; 0:04:01.17
5. Capriccio N.20 - J. Heifetz; 0:02:53.86 6. I Palpiti - V. Prihoda; 0:09:13.22 7. Le Streghe - V. Prihoda; 0:07:13.90 8. Nel cor piu non mi sento - V. Prihoda; 0:10:16.93 9. God save the King - J. Kubelik; 0:05:28.26 10. Capriccio N.6 - J. Kubelik; 0:04:03.40 11. La Campanella - N. Milstein; 0:03:55.96 12. Capriccio N.5 - W. Primrose; 0:01:34.70 13. Capriccio N.13 - W. Primrose; 0:02:06.40 14. Capriccio N.17 - W. Primrose; 0:03:14.82 William Primrose, Nathan Milstein, Yehudi Menuhin, Jascha Heifetz, Vasa Prihoda – violin Charles Cerne, Ferguson Webster, Andre Benoist, Leopold Mittmann, Harry Isaacs – piano

Paganini (born Oct. 27, 1782, Genoa, Republic of Genoa — died May 27, 1840, Nice, France) Italian violinist and composer. A prodigy, he joined an orchestra by age nine. He toured Italy (1810 – 28), renowned as its greatest violin virtuoso. His long-deferred international tour (1830 – 34) met with sensational success. Paganini's romantic personality and adventures created in his own day the legend of a Mephistophelean figure. He greatly extended violin technique, employing a wide use of harmonics, pizzicato effects, and new methods of fingering and even of tuning. His numerous compositions include 24 Caprices (1801 – 07) for solo violin, displaying the novel features of his technique, and six violin concertos.

download: uploaded yandex 4shared mediafire solidfiles mega filecloudio nornar zi ddu

back