Eden Atwood – No One Ever Tells You (1993)

01. I Didn't Know What Time It Was – Eden Atwood, Hart, Lorenz
02. I Was the Last One to Know – Eden Atwood,
03. Is You Is or Is You Ain't My Baby? – Eden Atwood, Austin, Bill
04. Ballad of the Sad Young Men – Eden Atwood, Landesman, Fran
05. Old Devil Moon – Eden Atwood, Harburg, E.Y.
06. Cow Cow Boogie – Eden Atwood, Carter, Benny [1]
07. No One Ever Tells You – Eden Atwood,
08. Too Late Now – Eden Atwood, Lane, Burton
09. Gentle Rain – Eden Atwood,
10. Nothing's Changed – Eden Atwood,
11. Them There Eyes – Eden Atwood, Pinkard, Maceo

Personnnel:
Eden Atwood (vocals)
Jim Martin (conductor)
Steve Zoloto (alto saxophone)
Brian Budzik, Von Freeman, Edward Peterson (tenor saxophone)
Linda Van Dyke (baritone saxophone)
Rob Parton, Steve Smyth (trumpet)
Paul McKee (trombone)
Laurence Hobgood, Bradley Williams (piano)
Dave Onderdonk (acoustic guitar)
Akio Sasajima (electric guitar)
El Dee Young (bass, vocals)
Doug Hayes, John Whitfield (bass)
Redd Holt, Michael Raynor (drums)
Mark Walker (percussion).

Eden Atwood – No One Ever Tells You (1993)

Written by bluesever
Monday, 30 August 2010 22:29 - Last Updated Thursday, 09 October 2014 12:42

Eden Atwood has been singing all her life. Eden started out in Memphis, TN where she was born in 1969, singing at Shakey's Pizza Parlor at age 3. Since then she has performed all over the world and recorded 9 albums. While a big fan of R and B, gospel and soul, Eden is a jazz singer in the traditional sense of the term. Songs with great melodies, deep, soulful, poetic lyrics and interesting changes are what Eden looks for in songs. "No One Ever Tells You" is a work of hope and optimism but also one of exquisite pain that, under its sunny veneer, masks a surprisingly melancholy heart. Listen to the plaintive vocals of "Ballad of the Sad Young Men" and try not to be impressed by the artist's sensitive delivery.

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

uploaded   yandex   4shared   mediafire   mega   solidfiles   zalivalka   cloudmailru   filecloud io   oboo m

back