KINETYKA - The author of almost all compositions on the cd is Leszek HeFi Wiśniowski. The only two pieces not written by the artist are: traditional folk song Krywań and Chopin's E-minor Prelude. The latter can also be heard on the prestigious recording-a vinyl record, that will be soon released by Polonia Records where Leszek HeFi Wiśniowski's Chopin interpretation will be next to Leszek Możdzer's and Andrzej Jagodzinski's interpretations.

Making use of the unique sound cohesiveness created by the electric piano, the musicians dare to travel to various esthetics mostly based on jazz but what is by far predominant, it is Leszek HeFi Wiśniowski's flute sound, full of virtuosity but still very sophisticated. The name of the record is formed on the base of physical term of kinetics, as a movement of particles caused by the unbalanced powers. The listener will also easy notice influences of Hubert Laws, Wayne Shorter, Chick Corea, Herbie Hancock, Krzysztof Komeda and EST music. The cd begins with thrilling and industrial "Kinetics" but when we're coming to the end the music seems to go smooth and we have Mr.H.L that melodically doesn't suite to the rest, that's why is labeled as a bonus track.
