With the latest album „cruisen“ the Thomas Siffling Trio presents a delightful easy going Nu Jazz with a high musical ambition and substance. In short: a young and contemporary German Jazz and music to relax, groove and feel good! The sound spectrum of the CD is amplified by the Hungarian vocalist Veronika Harcsa with her sonorous and sensual voice and by the master of electronic keys Xaver Fischer. Another highlight on the CD are the remixes created by Club des Belugas and Jelly Jam. But why the name “cruisen”? After being successful with the last trio CD “kitchen music” with all the wonderful recipes corresponding to the music, it was clear to Siffling to continue with the concept. So the concept of “cruisen” was more than reasonable to him, as Siffling is a car enthusiast and driver of a sports car. He loves cruising around with his car and enjoying the atmosphere and the landscapes. Corresponding to the music the CD presents nine European car routes to travel along while listening to the music.
