

Ella Fitzgerald - Lullabies Of Birdland (1955)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 02 October 2019 15:38 -

Ella Fitzgerald - Lullabies Of Birdland (1955)

A1 Lullaby Of Birdland A2 Rough Ridin A3 Angel Eyes A4 Smooth Sailing A5 Oh, Lady Be Good ! A6 Later B1 Ella Hums The Blues B2 How High The Moon B3 Basin Street Blues B4 Air Mail Special B5 Flying Home Vocals – Ella Fitzgerald Backing Vocals – The Ray Charles Singers Organ – Bill Doggett Vic Schoen And His Orchestra Conductor – Sy Oliver, Bob Haggart

With her impeccably clean phrasing, fluid scat-singing, and confident sense of swing, Ella Fitzgerald (1917-1996) was one of America's and the world's most popular jazz singers. Fitzgerald was a favored singing partner of Louis Armstrong, Frank Sinatra, Dizzy Gillespie (who had a profound influence on her singing during bebop's rise), and Duke Ellington, and achieved both critical and popular success during her lifetime. LULLABIES OF BIRDLAND consists of recordings from 1945 to 1955, offering a cross-section of Swing-era standards, many of which she flat-out owned by the end of her career ("Oh Lady Be Good" and "How High The Moon" among them). ---allmusic.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles

back

Ella Fitzgerald - Lullabies Of Birdland (1955)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 02 October 2019 15:38 -
