Born in Torino, Fabrizio's career has been amazing. He holds uncountable amount of prizes, for a best jazz CD and best Italian jazzman, to name a few, and has played together with London Symphonic Orchestra.

Fabrizio's style resounds with echoes from the classic bop era, among his notes and virtuosisms you can hear reminiscences from Clifford Brown and Miles Davis to Don Cherry, from Nino Rota to the great Chet Baker. It is Bop of third millennium, with amazing attacks, a proverbial sense of swing and a pouring speech; in fact, his desire to amaze has indeed given way to a balanced mix of virtuosity and poetry. The love for the Bop is always present but filtered by a great sensitivity and personal taste making his sound very contemporary, but still classic.

The repertoire consists almost entirely of original songs by trumpeter, with a few forays in the standards, both jazz and not, and original repertoire of the other components, depending on the inspiration of the moment.

Per questo Natale, Fabrizio Bosso ci regala un magnifico album di celebri canzoni natalizie con arrangiamenti jazz di grande classe! Il suo quartetto, composto oltre a lui alla tromba da Julian Oliver Mazzariello al piano, Jacopo Ferrazza al contrabbasso e Nicola Angelucci alla batteria, viene affiancato dalle splendide voci di Karima e Walter Ricci.
