Gianna Nannini might be 54 years old by now, she is still one of the biggest pop stars in Italy. Her 2008 hit collection 'GiannaBest' was certified Diamond Award and her latest album entered the Italian album charts at no. 2. After having listened to 'Giannadream - sono I sogni sono veri' ('Only dreams are real'), we can conclude that La Nannini made sort of a more traditional, melodic pop/rock album. The songs are mostly mid tempo, recorded with guitars, drums bass and strings. But, as always, Gianna's voice has the lead part – and her she still sounds very good! The album has been produced by Gianna herself, together with Wil Malone, who also arranged and conducted the (beautiful) strings by the London Studio Orchestra. It all adds up to a very decent and solid album. The only thing is... it sounds a bit like we have heard it all before on Gianna's previous albums. Even the songs are 'okay', but lack the catchy hooks from Nannini's best songs. Only on the few experiments – for instance on the song 'Siamo nella merda' ('We're in the shit'), with a contribution from rapper Fabri Fibra – the result becomes really exciting and interesting. All in all this is certainly no disappointing album, but than again it is also not an outstanding piece of work. --- europopmusic.eu
