On a magical night in Montreux in 2004, Carlos Santana invited three of his favourite bluesmen: Buddy Guy, Clarence 'Gatemouth' Brown and Bobby Parker for a concert of outstanding blues music. Each artist performed a full length concert and was joined on stage by Carlos Santana and other guests including Nile Rodgers and Barbara Morrison. Eagle Vision have previously released a 3 DVD set of the whole night but now we present a single disc version which features all the Carlos Santana performances from the event, over 90 minutes of great blues music.

Carlos Santana is known for his collaborations with lauded musicians, and this concert recording from 2004 is a great example. The talented guitarist welcomes a string of special guests on stage as he plays some of the songs from the highlights of his career. This presentation is a condensed 90-minute version of the full-length BLUES AT MONTREUX set that was released in 2004, and presents viewers with the opportunity to see Santana laying down some heady riffs alongside Buddy Guy, Nile Rodgers, Clarence "Gatemouth" Brown, and many others.
