

Daniel Kahn & The Painted Bird - The Butcher's Share (2017)

Written by bluelover

Saturday, 24 August 2019 09:24 -

Daniel Kahn & The Painted Bird - The Butcher's Share (2017)

1. Shimke Khazer 0:28 2. The Butcher's Sher 4:59 3. Freedom Is A Verb 3:21 4. Arbeter Froyen - Working Women 3:22 5. Sheyres Hora 2:00 6. The Ballad Of How The Jews Got To Europe 3:10 7. Children In The Woods 2:02 8. Shtil Di Nakht Iz Oysgeshternt - Silent Stars 4:01 9. 99% - Nayn-Un-Nayntsik 5:30 10. Tzivkever Nign 2:58 11. No One Survives 3:00
Clarinet, Saxophone, Trombone – Christian Dawid Drums, Percussion, Backing Vocals – Hampus Melin Electric Bass, Backing Vocals – Michael Tuttle Lead Vocals, Accordion, Acoustic Guitar, Electric Guitar, Piano, Tenor Banjo, Harmonica – Daniel Kahn Trombone – Dan Blacksberg Violin – Jake Shulman-Ment

Daniel Kahn & The Painted Bird live up for their name as "radical Yiddish borderland bandistas with punk attitude" with their new album The Butcher's Share, the first in five long years. It is the most powerful and complex work of the band so far and is dedicated to the great political and personal themes of our time. Kahn's revolutionary songs for the Apocalypse are like a declaration of war to the present.

A lot has happened since the last album Bad Old Songs. Daniel Kahn, who was born in Detroit but has been living in Berlin since 2005, has reshuffled the band with new and old companions. Christian Dawid's clarinets, saxophones and brass instruments sound like a dead drunk sailor orchestra crashing a Jewish wedding, Jake Shulman-Ment's razor-sharp violin cuts through the songs, and Kahn is in top form as a singer and guitarist. Sometimes full of joke, sometimes like a nightmare, sometimes deeply sad, they smuggle the original pieces, translations and adaptations beyond the borders of language, history, culture and genre. Punk, Klezmer, Jazz, Brecht, Waits, Folk-Ballads and more shake hands, and producer Thomas Stern brings his whole Kreuzberg punk rock sensibility into the project.. ---discogs.com download (mp3 @320 kbs):

Daniel Kahn & The Painted Bird - The Butcher's Share (2017)

Written by bluelover

Saturday, 24 August 2019 09:24 -

yandex mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles

back