Adam Mitchel Lambert (born January 29, 1982) is an American singer, songwriter, and actor from San Diego, California. In May 2009, he finished as the runner-up on the eighth season of American Idol. The Times identified Lambert as one of the few openly gay mainstream pop artists to launch a career on a major label in the United States. Lambert released his debut album, For Your Entertainment, in November 2009, via RCA Records/19 Recordings. The album debuted at number three on the Billboard 200 in December 2009, selling 198,000 copies in the United States in the first week. In 2010, Lambert was nominated for the Grammy Award for Best Male Pop Vocal Performance for "Whataya Want from Me". February 27, 2010 Lambert performed his first official solo concert, held at Fantasy Springs Resort Casino in Indio, California. He appeared on American Idol as a guest mentor in an episode airing April 13, 2010. In June 2010, he won the UR Fave: International Video award at the MuchMusic Video Awards. On December 6, 2010, Lambert released an acoustic EP, titled Acoustic Live!, recorded in various countries. He also announced that he is already working on his second album and that is expected to be released in 2011. In February 2011 Lambert admitted on Entertainment Tonight Canada that he was dating someone, not mentioning his name. Finnish tabloid Iltasanomat covered several stories about Lambert being seen with Finnish reality TV personality Sauli Koskinen, who won the Finnish reality TV show Big Brother in 2007. In December 2010, Iltasanomat speculated the two had been together in Paris, since they were both there at the same time and, in an interview to another newspaper, Adam Lambert told the vacation in Paris was "very romantic". Koskinen was in Los Angeles in January 2011. The two have also been seen together at Disneyland and in Bora Bora in February 2011.
