TD hoped to do the Cruise To The Edge gig with several other rock legends, including, of course, Yes but unfortunately the founding member of TD, Mr Edgar Froese, had a bad fall in icy conditions early in the year and ended up with a badly fractured jaw, plus another member of the band also fell ill and required surgery so they had to cancel. Luckily they had rehearsed about 60% of the concerts they were going to perform on board the boat and this is they. A fine collection of tracks, several from the Lily On The Beach period, and climaxing in an instrumental version of Moon River, which, if they had done the cruise, would have included vocals by a well known female artist but I have not heard, as yet, who that would have been. Anyway, a nice album to remind us of what might have been. Certainly a must for all the diehard TD fans out there, of which I am one. ---R. King, amazon.com
