

George Harrison – Thirty Three and 1/3 (1976)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 09 June 2010 22:16 - Last Updated Monday, 19 March 2018 16:54

George Harrison – Thirty Three and 1/3 (1976)

01. Woman Don't You Cry For Me – 3:17
02. Dear One – 5:08
03. Beautiful Girl – 3:37
04. This Song – 4:13
05. See Yourself – 2:50
06. It's What You Value – 5:07
07. True Love (Cole Porter) – 2:45
08. Pure Smokey – 3:54
09. Crackerbox Palace – 3:57
10. Learning How To Love You – 4:13

Personnel:

- George Harrison - lead vocals, guitars, synthesizers and percussion
- Willie Weeks - bass
- Alvin Taylor - drums
- Gary Wright - keyboards
- Richard Tee - piano, organ and Fender Rhodes
- Billy Preston - piano, organ and synthesizer
- David Foster - Fender Rhodes and clavinet
- Tom Scott - saxophone, flute and lyricon
- Emil Richards – marimba

Having suffered the humiliation of being sued successfully over "My Sweet Lord," George Harrison turned the ordeal into music, writing "This Song," a Top 25 hit. Even better was "Crackerbox Palace," which would have fit in nicely on any Beatles album. The rest was slight, although Harrison covering Cole Porter's "True Love" is an interesting idea. This was Harrison's first album on Dark Horse, his custom label, formed after the completion of his contract with EMI/Capitol in June 1976 and initially distributed by A&M. ---William Ruhlmann, AllMusic

George Harrison – Thirty Three and 1/3 (1976)

Written by bluesever

Wednesday, 09 June 2010 22:16 - Last Updated Monday, 19 March 2018 16:54

Review

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire uloz.to gett

back