

Bill Lyerly Band - Railroad Station Blues (1998)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Czwartek, 29 Lipiec 2010 14:59 - Zmieniony Środa, 02 Wrzesień 2020 15:26

Bill Lyerly Band - Railroad Station Blues (1998)

1 You Never Know 4:09 2 Too Hurt To Cry / An Eye For An Eye 6:20 3 Case Of Jones 3:50 4 Somethin's Eatin' Me 4:43 5 See Past Your Eyes 3:35 6 Hangmen 2:42 7 Nothin' To Show 4:27 8 There Must Be An Angel 4:25 9 Virtual Reality Time 3:54 10 Railroad Station Blues / I Can't Understand 8:39 11 Down Along The Cove 3:52 Bill Lyerly - Accordion, Composer, Guitar, Organ (Hammond), Piano, Producer, Vocals

Bill Lyerly's playing on Railroad Station Blues recalls electric bluesmen like Muddy Waters and Freddie King, as well as blues-based rockers like Clapton and Hendrix, but he is most beholden to the powerful attack of Stevie Ray Vaughan. Highlights include "Hangman," a duet with Steve Earle. [Railroad Station Blues was originally released on Lyerly's own Broadcast label under the title Case of Jones; when Riviere International picked it up for distribution, it was retitled and several new tracks were added to the original program.] ---Steve Huey, AllMusic Review download (mp3 @320 kbs):

yandex mediafire ulozto gett bayfiles

back