

James Son Thomas – Beefsteak Blues (1998)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Czwartek, 02 Wrzesień 2010 20:01 - Zmieniony Czwartek, 25 Luty 2021 20:10

James Son Thomas – Beefsteak Blues (1998)

1-Mama Don't 'Low No Guitar Playin' 'Round Here

2-Big Fat Mama

3-Beefsteak Blues

4-Rock Me Mama

5-Catfish Blues [Unexpurgated Version]

6-Standing At The Crossroads

7-Highway Sixty One Blues

8-Good Morning Little Schoolgirl

9-Stormy Monday

10-Catfish Blues

11-Ludella Ludella

12-Highway 61 Blues

Bass – Cleveland Jones (tracks: 4), J.W. Williams (tracks: 9) Drums – Mose Rutues (tracks: 9)
9) Vocals, Electric Guitar, Acoustic Guitar – James "Son" Thomas

Down-and-dirty blues don't get any downer or dirtier than James "Son" Thomas. A former sharecropper and grave digger (as well as an accomplished sculptor) who was shot by an ex-wife, Thomas, to put it mildly, lived the blues life he sang about. Eventually his hard road took him all the way to the White House, where he sang the blues for the Reagans (those noted blues lovers) in 1982. This Evidence collection of early-'80s performances features Thomas accompanying himself on acoustic and electric guitar on a set of blues standards associated with his Mississippi Delta mentors Elmore James, Arthur Crudup, and Sonny Boy Williamson. Compare the two versions of "Catfish Blues" for an example of what "unexpurgated" really means. – mississippimoan.

download (mp3 @320 kbs):

James Son Thomas – Beefsteak Blues (1998)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Czwartek, 02 Wrzesień 2010 20:01 - Zmieniony Czwartek, 25 Luty 2021 20:10

yandex mediafire ulozto solidfiles

back