Ciaram Granger is a Australian Singer, Songwriter, Blues Roots and Folk performer based out of Adelaide, Australia.

At 25 years of age he has traveled Australia and Europe playing his unique style of Blues and Folk. Playing shows in Germany, France, Belgium, Netherlands and Australia. Blending a style of folk and blues with a range of instruments including guitar, weissenborn, cigar box guitar, harmonica, didgeridoo, stomp-box, and a range of crazy effects, creating a sound that is hard to believe it comes from one person.

Ciaram has played in some of the countries best live music venues and festivals like Woodford Folk Festival, Fleurieu Folk Festival, Follow the Sun Festival, Blues in the Barossa plus many more and has also shared the stage with such acts as John Butler, Paul Dempsey, Ash Grunwald, Dallas Frasca, Bonjah and Jordie Lane.

Growing up in the seaside town of Warrnambool, Victoria. Ciarams passion for surfing and the ocean developed the way he took to his songwriting. With songs about freedom, love and the Ocean, You will be taken on a journey that will leave you wanting more.
