Keyboard/vocalist Bill Heid has performed throughout the U.S., Canada, South America, Europe, and the Far East, including a three year stay in Japan. Perhaps the nuttiest guy on the planet, but Bill treats piano-playing as no joke. This guy is unbelievable and plays a B-3 like Larry Young and Don Patterson, killer left-hand & foot. Piano like Oscar Peterson, McCoy Tyner, Otis Spann & Gene Harris, not to mention total commitment to "cool." Here, Bill attempts to cover all the blues types he loved as a kid. The pure, clean, yet down and dirty guitar sounds of Johnny Basset and the sensuously muted trumpet of Dwight Adams help to propel this good-time disc to the land of great CDs. ---Editorial Reviews, dwmmusic.com
