The James Cotton Blues Band's sophomore effort continues in the direction set by their debut and deliver a satisfying mixture of blues and R&B that feature not only James Cotton's vocals and harp playing but also gives guitarist Luther Tucker and pianist Alberto Gianquinto the chance to shine as well. The instrumental "The Creeper," which was a featured number in concert for many years, is the highlight of this album, but to anyone who enjoyed the first album, "Pure Cotton" will deliver the goods and is an enjoyable listen. ---Jerry Micco, allmusic.com
