

Butti 49 – Habit (2004)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Sobota, 13 Listopad 2010 20:50 - Zmieniony Środa, 06 Sierpień 2014 21:40

Butti 49 – Habit (2004)

1. Flying (Feat. Emo) play
2. Kongo Mongo
3. Incurable (Feat. Mayia James)
4. Action (Feat. Emo)
5. Loving You (Feat. Lucy May)
6. Alan Accelerates
7. Habit Pt.1 (Feat. Emo) play
8. Habit Pt.2 (Feat. Emo)
9. Boogaloo
10. Hustle On The Vessel
11. Sun Vs Moon (Feat. Azhar)

Credits:

Oyvind Jakobsen: Piano, Fender Rhodes, Programming

Leonard Chaparian: Trumpet

John Alan Lilja: Bass (Upright)

Morten Johan Olsen: Drums

Dindrik Ingvaldsen: Trumpet (Soloist)

Helge Ingebretsen: Flutes

Glenn B. Henriksen: Saxophones

Trond Tellefsen: Hammond, Clavinet, Fender Rhodes

Snorre Seim: Flutes & Aditional Programming

Emo: Vocals

Mayia James: Vocals

Lucy May: Vocals

Following on the tails of Koop, the Norwegian pair of Snorre Seim and Oyvind Jakobsen continue the Northern European encroachment into the realms of jazz-based electronic funk

Butti 49 – Habit (2004)

Wpisany przez bluesever

Sobota, 13 Listopad 2010 20:50 - Zmieniony Środa, 06 Sierpień 2014 21:40

with Habit, in a genre previously dominated by German producers. With earlier single releases on the high reputable Guidance and Nuphonic labels, the duo's debut album offers up all of the shuffling percussion, liquid bass, and quick-licking accompaniment one has come to demand from this sort of release. Live instrumentalists play along with delicately programmed electronics, with vocals by Emo, Mayia James, and Lucy May filling out various tracks. "Loving You" presents a sitar-friendly R&B feel, while the instrumental "Kongo Mongo" and singsong "Incurable" have a squelchy techno and shaking disco beat, respectively. "Boogaloo" does exactly that, with an extremely familiar Latin percussion and piano refrain that breaks into a driven trumpet solo by Didrik Ingvaldsen. Reflecting on the global tech of Kirk Degiorgio, as well as the organic funk of Rainer Trüby, Butti 49 will certainly find their way into globally conscious DJ crates and style conscious boutiques extremely quickly. ~ Joshua Glazer

Butti 49 (aka Snorre Seim and Oyvind Jakobsen) release their debut album on exceptional records, having attracted attention from all parts of the world with their remixes and a series of dazzling singles from their own Norwegian heroes. Based in Stavanger, the Butti's have been a mainstay of their hometown scene for several years with a growing reputation which spread across Norway and then to other parts of the world. They released a series of well received singles, both on their own imprint and on a number of other well respected labels like Guidance and Nuphonic, which spread the word even further. In addition. their services as remixers have been in demand, their list of remix credits is extensive with such heavyweights as Kyoto Jazz Massive, Nu Spirit Helsinki, Sirius B, and Ennio Morricone to name but a few. Their music has also been featured on numerous compilations including DJ Spinna's Raiding the Crates on Shadow Records, Compost Records, DNM and many more.

download: uploaded yandex 4shared mediafire solidfiles mega zalivalka filecloudio
anonfiles
oboom

back